Mike was my boss for many years and I really respected and enjoyed working with him. He always gave me a chance do be involved more with our building projects and managing the office. Some of those memories were when he and Connie decided to adopt a little boy, Jason, and needed to come up with baby things really quick. They were so excited but a little out of their element to begin with. They also had so many fun 4th of July parties. Really loved the guy.
