“ George Clark was one of my dearest friends. A friendship formed 47 years ago to be exact. Motorcycles were what brought us together. I was with the advertising agency for American Honda and George was with Petersen Publishing. He was one of the most genuine and most honest sales reps we did business with. What you saw was what you got. George was smart, outspoken, cranky, ornery, and lovable. So many great memories: the many trips to Baja in his old yellow van; all the rides out at the Petersen Ranch; the Tecate 500; the Alligator Endure in Florida -- a bunch of great times together.
And I miss him.

“ You were the most stubborn man and the most loving! You trusted everyone, and were always there for your friends, you would give the shirt off your back for anyone...Proud of you!

You loved your Rozie from the depths of your being! You were there for all of your 5 children, 9 grandchildren and 12 Great grandchildren loving and supportive to us all! You also, had countless Motörhead friends all over the world, who would come to you for advice!!!

George Phillips Clark has accompanied so many things, from helping to build his first home in Cambria to remodeling a building in town! He always had one or more cars/motorcycles that he was working on and they were always the most amazing cars and motorcycles... he grew up with such a passion for his love of motors!

George had a lot of sayings, however this is one of my favorites!

When asking him how are you, he would say “I’m happy as a clam with feet”!

I love you so much Poppy!
