“ Those of us who remember Dennis in his prime know how smart and funny he could be. I loved him so dearly since before I can remember, he was my big brother's best pal and was like a sibling to me until I was well into my 20s. Gradually time took its toll; in recent years he was almost a different person, but I saw the young Dennis in those green eyes sometimes still. I knew so well, one part of the real Dennis, his way of talking, his laugh, how strong and fast he was, and how many times just funnin' about with folks, we all made each other laugh until we were weak. He was fun to be around. I will miss him and have missed him ... Dennis, God's gotcha now. Your loving Janny
