“ *That smile.

Gayle and I met when we both had someone at Cherish House. She fell in love with my mom, and helped me through some tough times as a daughter by being able to give me a different perspective. I so appreciated the attention she gave my mom, and we were able to support each other through some tough times.

I'm grateful she made it to Scotland, that she got to enjoy her Mercedes, and to know how much she enjoyed all of her friends, family and creating art. There are few people like her who cares so deeply for other people and helped them whenever she could. There always were friends of hers in the gallery, and she opened her house often to gather them together. Her Bloody Mary breakfasts at the Pinederado parade will be such a good memory of how fun-loving she always was. I always enjoyed hearing about her parrots, her jaunts to Carmel, and always loved running into her at San Simeon cove as we searched for beach glass.

Heaven has a very special angel.

“ Gayle was the most precious treasure in the treasure chest. We met in College way back when and the rest is history. She immediately stood out in this young crowd of newfound freedom and continued to until her passing.

To our Sweet Gayle: to say we will miss you is painful and tearful to write. Thank you for all that you were and all that you gave. When you were born, God graced you with one of your best attributes - Giving. We can already see you flying around in Heaven meeting everyone. You became popular the minute you went through the Pearly Gates.

We will miss our times together, your trademark voice messages and you - the real deal, salt of the earth, lover of life, Queen of Zen, and all the polish and grace you exuded. Godspeed, friend. We will miss you forever. We love you, Di/Jim, and Theresa

“ Thank you Gayle for being our teacher, best friend to everyone. Your gallery was always a meeting place for friends to slow down, share life's ups and downs and come away feeling nurtured and loved. You meant so much to so many. We will cherish the memories and time spent with you...you were a one in a million. Fly high dear, Heaven will be all the richer with you onboard. Maggie and Scott
