

Peter Del Vaglio

November 20, 2021

Peter Russell DelVaglio Jr. passed away at his home in San Luis Obispo, CA on November 20, 2021.

He was born August 29, 1941 to his parents Peter and Chiara DelVaglio in Stamford, Connecticut.

Peter is survived by his wife, Maria Luisa DelVaglio; children Peter DelVaglio III (Mandi), Lisa Schulz (Bill), Grace Armstrong (Dave), and Dino DelVaglio. He has 5 grandchildren; Christian, Ryan, Connor, Lauren, and Jonathan.

As a U.S. veteran, Peter enjoyed traveling, playing and listening to music, collecting art and his Italian heritage.

He moved his family from Connecticut to California in 1970 so he could teach in the graphic arts department at Cal Poly, San Luis Obispo for 15 years.

His entrepreneurial spirit led him to many other projects throughout his life including real estate, construction, and bar and restaurant ownership.

Funeral service to be held at the Old Mission Church on Tuesday, November 30, at 10:00 A.M.

“ My sincerest condolences on Pete's passing. My brother Ralph was married to Peter's cousin Corrine. That's how we came to know one another. If we weren't at his house on Stillwater Ave. or lifting weights at my house on Spruce Street we were doing something. Fond memories. Sincerely, Ed Boccuzzi. ejboccuzzi@sbcglobal.net ”

“ Uncle Pete! What can I say. He was one of the funniest and handsomest uncles a girl could have. He was always smiling and, oh, what glee there was in his eyes. Always one for tricks ...in Grandma's attic was his magician's stage...he performed many magic tricks for us. He also loved to play jokes on his siblings. I remember when he bought expensive chocolates from Bloomingdale's and offered them to everyone. Luckily, he had informed us of the contents beforehand. I remember Aunt Rachel tasting one and guessing that it was a chocolate covered raisin. Yum. Did her face ever pale when he told her that she had just eaten a chocolate covered ant! Thought she would faint. She was fortunate to have picked a little one because the bigger pieces were much grosser bugs. That was Uncle Pete!
I remember when he was in the service and stationed in Italy. Great luck, as that was where he met his beautiful- wife to be- Aunt Louisa. Like my dad, he was not one to like the cold. Unlike my dad, he ventured away from the homestead CT, and left for sunny CA. The rest is history.
Love and sympathy,
Crissy ”
