“ I think of Vic frequently. I moved (for the second time since he met him) a year ago and haven't had issues or called him. I was thinking of him tonight and saw this.

I am sorry for his family's loss and I am also thankful for his friendship and assistance.

I have several incredible stories about his work but what I will always remember is his lessons about owning a kitty (both my cat and dog loved him) and of a great story about traveling with a few friends (I'm thinking 2015) up eastern California to gold country.

He was one of the kindest people I have know throughout my life.

“ Vic was our savior at the bakery, he could analyze any problem with equipment and fix it. He was so humble about his skills but we could not have made it without him. We came to Love he and Millie, they were both part of our San Luis Sourdough family. It was a privilege to know him. Dave and Charlie West

“ Vic was one of the very best friends a person could have. He worked with us and our family for over 30 years and we pray he has found happiness. It is hard to lose such a good friend and we wish happiness to his family
