

Wesley Baum

August 17, 1949 - October 18, 2018

No obituary found for this tribute.

Tribute Wall

BE

“ My heart goes out to you, Bette Jo, to the earthly loss of Wes Jr but we all will meet again. I have many memories, as do my sisters (Duncan's) of the many family reunions and climbing trees and playing games with Chip and all my other first cousins. Then there are the memories of the times visiting you all in Orlando and then staying with you all in California. Chip showed me around Downey so i wouldn't get lost. He didn't know that doesn't work. What a rascal he was and it makes me smile just to remember the shared times.

I'm so glad that my hubby Bill and my kids also got to meet Wes Jr. Then the brief time at Wesley Sr's funeral was all too short but am thankful for that time, too.

Please remember that we are just a phone call away.

Love and hugs from the Eelman family.

Bill And Stella Eelman - November 09, 2018 at 10:03 AM

KB

“ Wesley Lehman Baum, Jr., nicknamed "Chippy" early on in life, was an only child to Wesley Lehman Baum, Sr. and Bette Jo Moore Baum.

I last saw him at his father's funeral in 2012 at Blackwater Baptist Church in Virginia Beach, Virginia. Chip's father was my 1st cousin.

For several years I was responsible for updating the Baum family tree. The tree was published in the book "Currituck Legacy, The Baum Family of North Carolina" written by Elizabeth Baum Hanbury in 1985.

That tree stopped at Wesley Jr.'s grandfather, Forrest O. Baum and my father, among others of their generation who were third generation Blackwater , Princess Anne County, Virginia Beach , VA Baum's.

I generated computer files of the Baum family tree. I turned over that responsibility several years ago to "Bo" Ives. We no longer have our annual Baum/Baxter/Cox family reunions that were last held in Blackwater, so no further updates have been coordinated. It is with much sadness that I update my file for Wesley Jr.

Ken Baum

k.baum.23455@gmail.com

Virginia Beach, VA 23455

Ken Baum - October 28, 2018 at 12:09 PM